Annual Giving: We have received about 900 dollars in annual giving donations, which will fully fund our winter programs. Any additional funds we get at this point will probably go towards the children's room. Oceana Community Foundation is donating book bins for our board books as well.

Cintas: We got the mats and have had them changed a few times, it's pretty nice. The new AED is also installed.

Kathy and the Canva posters: Kathy went through our survey results and as one of her takeaways has been making new posters and signage that directs patrons' attention to things mentioned in the survey.

Training: Kathy is going to spend some of our training day making sure the staff understand all the services we offer (and pay Lakeland for), in preparation for a patron training later in the winter.

Elves are making the library merry: and mostly I mean Stacey. Check out her wrapping paper station, free bookmark tree and candy cane hunt, as well as her display cases.

Old Building, New Problems: We had to have 1st Choice Heating out to work on the HVAC as there was no heat in my office and the workroom. Our handyman is ordering parts for the staff restroom as the toilet gets into endless flushing loops.

Merry Christmas and Happy New Year! 2024 was a trip. The staff blew me away with their willingness to try new things, be creative, and to bring problems to me while armed with solutions. I'm hoping in 2025 we can finesse our team into a well-oiled machine and get uniformity across the board in terms of brand, design, and policies.
